

Sermon – Discipleship Challenges for Kingdom Builders #5
God@Work

This is the fifth in a six part series, which focuses on the different discipleship challenges that Christians face in their lives. This bible study draws from Bruce Daniel's sermon on 17/2/2008 and is a series of readings and questions. The questions have some suggested discussion prompts (listed by a series of bullet points) to help the conversation to flow.

If you are using these questions for a weekly session please use all of the questions. For a fortnightly session please only use the questions in highlighted in italics.

Think about the following questions:

- How would your colleagues describe you?
- Are you different on a Sunday Morning than a Monday Morning?
- How much time do you spend at work?
  - Is your relationship with God the same?
- Do you take God to work with you?

Think about the areas of work where you struggle to be a Christian, possibly the areas where you feel hypocritical.

Think about what you could do to change this, write an action plan of how you want to change and discuss with the group areas where you would like support.

Read Colossians Ch 3 v 23-24
