

Prayer Matters – Listening
28th February 2021

Welcome to our virtual gathering. Wherever you will be, and whatever time it will be, when you join in our worship, may you be blessed and may you truly know God's presence. May you be encouraged, strengthened, comforted by our worship and may it set you right for the week ahead.

I hope, that like me, you were encouraged by the government's plans, announced earlier this week, to lift the lockdown restrictions over the coming few months. It does look like we can, tentatively, begin to look forward to being able to worship together once more. How wonderful that will be. A great answer to prayer, but don't stop praying about it yet!

Our theme this week, in the penultimate of our Prayer Matters series, is Listening and we look forward to hearing from, or even listening to, Tim as he brings us God's word.

As in previous Sunday's during this series, there are four helpful resources to accompany this week's service.

1. How to Speak in tongues
2. How to do the Lecto Divina
3. How to journal
4. How to turn parenting into prayer

And if you have access to Pete Greig's book 'How to Pray', the chapter on listening is well worth a read.

The link for this morning's service is

<http://bluntishambaptist.org/index.php/Ministries/virtualchurch>

Every blessing

Peter

Peter Thatcher